SAGE Executive votes Unanimously to Withdraw from CUS & OUS

The SAGE executive voted Wednesday night to actively campaign for U of T withdrawal from the Ontario Union of Students and the Canadian Union of Students. A campus-wide referendum will be held on the issue on Thursday October 23rd, 1969.

The C.U.S. is a 33 year old organization which was designed to represent and co-ordinate national programming for Canada's university students. In truth, though, for as long as you and I have been university students at least, CUS has been nothing more than a spring board and meeting place for Canada's left-wing radicals, both non-students and students. Membership in CUS has been dwindling rapidly to the point where, at present, only 13 of Canada's 64 universities still retain membership. There are no members from the Province of Quebec because CUS actively supports separation. Because of this, President Martin Loney will not allow Quebec universities to join a Canadian group.

If the University of Toronto votes to stay in CUS, approximately $36,000.00 of our money will be spent in the next year to provide the necessary "basis for a socialist student movement" as Peter Warrian, past president of CUS has said. Barry McPeak, a Maritimes field worker for CUS until early this year has said that he "can't see any other use for CUS other than setting up radical groups."

CUS seminars which are held regularly are little more than indoctrination sessions where speakers are generally leaders of groups like SDS and the Canadian Communist Party and every once in a while a liberal speaker is invited to make it respectable. At the last CUS seminar held in the spring in Sudbury the Toronto Student Movement, fore-runner of the New Left Caucus, was the only student group outside of the university student councils to be invited to send delegates. Why were other student groups not allowed to send delegates? Not only does CUS support the radical left groups, they have been responsible for setting up 14 new SDS or New Left Caucus groups on Canadian campuses.

The most recent CUS Congress has adopted a set of resolutions which seem to be a step toward moderation. It is expected that the referendum will be fought on the basis of these new resolutions. But it is obvious to most people that these new resolutions have been adopted with a view toward the referendum because if U of T pulls out of CUS, CUS will fold. U of T, being the largest university in Canada, is the financial backbone of CUS. In fact, there seems to be some division among the CUS executive about the new steps President Loney feels that CUS should moderate until after the referendum when it can return to its old ways. Vice-President Michael O'Sullivan wants CUS to take a stand on its true convictions. He has said, in an interview at Victoria College, "What we have done is tone down the verbiage without changing the content. I disagree that we have stepped to the right."

CUS also offers charter flights to Europe for its member students as an added attraction. But again Vice-President O'Sullivan has said "We don't want students to vote for CUS because they get a trip to Europe or because they like the concept of a national student union. We want them to vote for our political platform."

It should also be pointed out that SAGE is going to run 2 charter flights to Europe for Erindale students this summer at rates far below those of CUS.

I cannot over-emphasize the importance of your vote in the coming referendum. Left-wing radicalism is starting to have a tangible adverse affect on our university. The new-left has opposed the Campbell Committee Report and there is every indication that they are going to oppose the CUG report which was brought down yesterday.

These two reports will have a liberalizing effect on the university and the radical groups have learned that any liberalization of the university has a devastating effect on radical groups. The net result is that the radicals are negating liberalization efforts. I challenge you to watch the reaction of the New Left Caucus to the CUG report when it is brought down.

I would like to point out that we are not campaigning against political expression. We are, however, campaigning against a minority group which uses our money and claims to represent Canadian university students and does not. CUS, as it exists today, is not a student organization but a political party and I want the right to decide whether or not I want to support it/us to decide.

Many moderate students have wondered how they can express themselves against the radical minority left. This is your chance. Don't pass it by. On October 23rd-----

VOTE NO!!!

EDITOR'S NOTE

As Paul said the vote will take place on October 23rd. There will be ballots available here at Erindale and everyone is asked to vote in this important issue.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

"The condition of man... is a condition of war of everyone against everyone."

Thomas Hobbes
On Human Nature

Next week the referendum for the acquittal or ousting of the Canadian Union of Students will take place on the U of T campus. It does not, we feel, do any good to ask people to vote or to scream "Apathetic students" because we have learned from the past that apathy mourning only leads to a dead end.

We would like to urge, therefore that the student body only realize the gravity of the issues and the effect that they have. CUS can, through its policy, brand or glorify the student in society. They have facilities for great publicity. Has this publicity represented us in the past?

In order to deal properly with the future of us students we must judge CUS from the pamphlets that will be distributed next week. Both factions, pro- and anti-CUS are preparing these pamphlets. It is up to us to decide.

BUILDING PLANS

The proposed plans for the future buildings of Erindale College (phase II) are now on display in the foyer.

The plans are not final, and Dr. Wilson invites the students of Erindale to examine them and submit their criticisms, comments and ideas.

This is an excellent opportunity for the students to take a responsible and constructive part in building their college.

THE CENTRAL HARMONY

What is God-given is what we call human nature. To fulfil the law of our human nature is what we call the moral law. The cultivation of the moral law is what we call culture.

The moral law is the law from whose operation we cannot for one instant of our existence escape. A law from which we can escape is not the moral law. Wherefore is it that the moral man (or the superior man) watches diligently over what his eyes cannot see and is in fear and awe of what his ears cannot hear.

There is nothing more evident than what the eyes cannot see and nothing more palpable than that which cannot be perceived by the senses. Wherefore the moral man watches diligently over his secret thoughts. When the passions, such as joy, anger, grief, and pleasure have not been awakened, that is our CENTRAL self, or moral being. When these passions awaken and each and all attain due measure and degree, that is harmony, or the moral order. Our central self, or moral being, is the great basis of existence and the harmony, or moral order, is the universal law of the world. When our true self and harmony are realized, the universe then becomes a cosmos and all things attain their full growth and development.

THE TORONTO POP FESTIVAL

The Toronto Pop Festival is the greatest thing that has happened to the rock scene. Many of the best groups in the business performed including Procul Harem, Blood, Sweat & Tears, Steppenwolfe, and Sly & the Family Stone. Never before had so many groups gathered on one stage.

At first it was thought such a thing was not possible. The kids in Toronto weren't prepared for a pop festival. How wrong these ideas were! We were prepared! Over 40,000 kids turned out over two days to groove to the music. They weren't there to cause trouble; they were there to have a good time. Everyone had a favourite group to see. Many of the groups that people wanted to see were there. There was a little bit for everyone. For those who dug blues there was Johnny Winter. For those who dug rock there was the M.R.Q. and Alice Cooper and so on. This was what essentially brought people out. The show was not confined to any one type of music.

I really dug the festival. It was quite an experience seeing so many groups at one time. The only poor group that was there was the Kensington Market. This was the general feeling throughout the crowd. Other than this I thought the festival was quite a smash.

The best groups naturally appeared at the end. On Saturday, Sly & the Family Stone appeared last. In my opinion, they were the best group there. Their sound was distinct from all others. You actually have to see them to believe it.

This festival was such a success that there might well be another one next year. Toronto is really being recognized as far as entertainment goes. What a groovy thing it is to be a part of this great city!!

JOKE OF THE WEEK

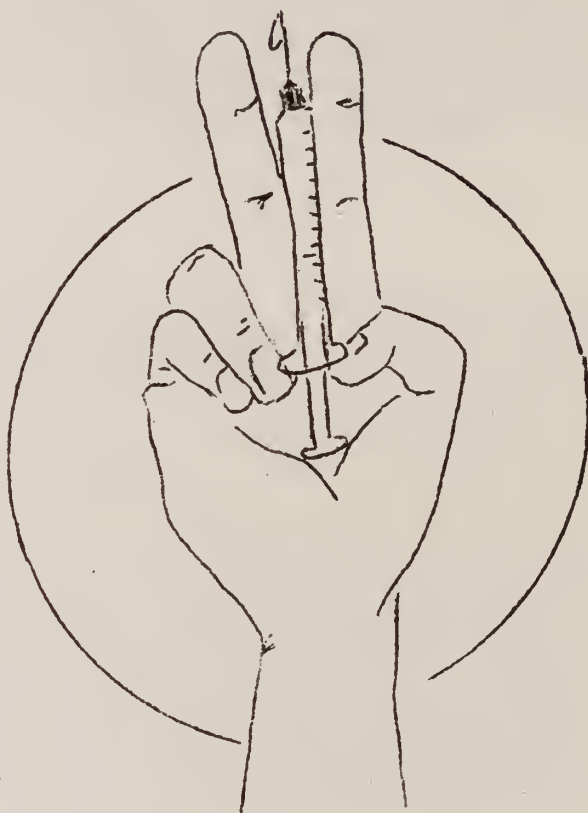

What do you get when you let your cat get at your vacuum cleaner?

A Clawed Bissel.

POETRY PAGE

This was inspired by a rather one-sided discussion with a head in Kelowna B.C. who knew the drug scene inside out and couldn't stop letting me know...

well I had a lotta hangups
I was young and scared and lost
the world was filled with war and hate (peace at any cost)
so for the odd distraction
I took to drinking wine
I'd get all drunk, forget my woes and all the people lying
but in my sober hours
I was nervous and alone
so just to ease my tensions
I took to getting stoned
I blew my mind and dug a lot on hash and reef and weed and just to reach a better high
I followed up on speed
so STP and MDA
and acid were my bag
I really dug the drug scene
all you cats were such a drag,

and so I saw the world
was almost perfect thru' my eyes
I'd done a lot to Freak out lotsa jams on different highs my troubles are all over I'm no longer all confused on peace and love and freedom and I never touch the booze
for as of June eleventh
I am happy to report.
I'm on the syndicate payroll
peddling dope and fixing sports with fifty thousand bucks a year
a home and cars to boot
a wife and son who love me and all the heroin I can shoot.

BE THERE

Fellow followers of Refinement, now that we have finally settled into oblivion, we have to get off of our complacencies and start to live. Life is a bodily process. "Aye, there's the rub."

If you are confused,,,good. We want you to come to the college after the scholastic activities have died down and hang on to all the great stuff that has been planned. The bus paint-in tomorrow (remember the painting of the float for the parade?) and dance, the masquerade dance and the great Homecoming Parade (we were number 2 last year) are just a mini-capsule cut of the action.

We need cheerleaders, yellers (sober or no), players, screamers, and mothers. Let's show everybody how great we really are. Our buses are fantastic, our teams are fantastic, our college is fantastic, we are fantastic.....need I go on?

ERINDALE PLACES IN LONDON GOLF TOURNEY

A team of six Erindalians captured second place last Friday in a five team invitational golf tournament at the Thames Valley Golf and Country Club.

Fanshaw College from London, Ont., won the tourney; Erindale and Sheridan shared second place.

All teams played an 18 hole course, with only the four best scores counting.

Ken Ward of Fanshaw had the lowest single score with a 75. Erindale was led by Doug Long, only six strokes off the pace with an 81. Barry Robb, John Hewitt, Brian Beech, Rick Bush, and Ron Cook completed the team.

On the previous Friday, Erindale placed first in a match with Scarborough and Glendon Colleges.

Erindale played again yesterday at the West Hill Golf Club. The game was an interfaculty mixed two-ball (one guy, one girl, one ball). Representing Erindale were Gail Fremont, Doug Long and Gary Price.

Incidentally Gary Price, who is a freshman, led the U. of T. Golf team at the O.Q.A.A. Golf Championships at Beverley Golf Club in Hamilton.

NOTICE

Ever made a fool out of yourself by falling flat on your face in the main aisle of the bus? I did tonight--all because somebody was too lazy to pitch his banana peel in the box at the front of the bus...or at least out of the window...Our buses are beginning to play a close second to the Mississauga dump, and certainly aren't the most pleasant things to ride on.

So PLEASE,---Help prevent accidents--pitch all banana peels, apple cores, paper bags, beer bottles, dead bodies and other assorted trash in the boxes.

Keep Rudy and Ron happy---and our buses clean!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

On Thursday, Nov. 14, 1968, Vol.1, No.1 of The Erindalian was presented to the students of Erindale College. In this first issue, the "purpose" of The Erindalian was outlined along with a statement of "The Policy of The Erindalian". The three policy statements listed under this title were, and I quote:

1. To report the facts as impartially and as fairly as possible.
2. To represent as accurately as possible all opinions that wish to be expressed.
3. Any views or facts which in the opinion of the staff do not serve a useful or nature purpose will not be considered for publication.

I would now like to ask the editor a series of questions related to these policy statements, and I hope that he will print this letter, in its entirety, accompanied by the answers to the questions.

Firstly, does the policy statement number three not limit the "facts" mentioned in the statement number one to only those "facts" deemed useful by the Erindalian staff?

Secondly, is the "useful or nature purpose" mentioned in statement number three not just any "purpose" which "the staff" deem justifiable according to their biased views and values?

Thirdly, is the article entitled "Dressed For the Occasion" which appeared in last Friday's Erindalian, deemed to have a "useful or nature purpose" by "the staff"?

And lastly, is the person who wrote the article just mentioned, attempting to remain anonymous, or has he or she the courage of his or her own "convictions", and consequently will he or she reveal his or her name as the author?

-Sandy McDermid

--- In answer to your first question, yes - it is true that number three statement would have a limiting effect upon number one but only in very special cases. Immature or irrational views, opinions, or facts would be a waste of printed space and an insult to the intelligence of our readers. So, we don't publish them. Is this serious consorship?

Also do not forget that item number one limits us against going too far in our editing!

As to the second question, every newspaper has difficulty in avoiding bias in viewpoint and hopefully this bias should only appear on the editorial pages. Letters to the editor are printed exactly as they are received.

Finally, the article "Dressed for the Occasion" was run because we felt it was a light touch to liven up our sometimes "dry" newspaper.

The authors of that story were not named because there were too many of them; it was written by the girls of the residence.

We submit that the policy of The Erindalian is in need of being cleared up and we will publish a revised writing of it in a later issue.

The Staff

Several weeks ago, Erindale student Mike Brosky wrote to the Prime Minister of Canada asking for action on the pollution legislation.

So far the following is his only reply. We will print the eventual answer, hopefully before the end of the year.

Dear Mr. Brosky:

Please accept this interim acknowledgement on the Prime Minister's behalf of your recent communication on the subject of pollution.

We shall be writing to you further concerning this important topic in the near future.

Mrs. Olga Maxwell (Secretary)

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I am a JOCK and proud of it. I'm not going to push sports; I just want to comment on them, or the lack of them. Girls sports this year have been downright disappointing.

Six girls represented Erindale at Scarboro in a field hockey game. As eleven girls are needed to fill a team, five Scarbrough girls played for Erindale. Six girls appeared at the first basketball practise, none came to the volleyball practice. There were four female participants in judo and there were seven girl contestants in the golf tournament.

Several girls taking the phys. ed. course on the St. George campus have mentioned the attractiveness of Erindale's athletic programme. We HAVE the programme and the equipment, coaches, and instructors; we have no participants and no spectators. There were no more than five fans at the ruggar game on Wednesday night. GREAT SUPPORT.

Athletic activities ARE fun, Can be fun and CAN produce enthusiasm and spirit.

The Athletic Department and SCARA try hard. LET'S HAVE SOME SUPPORT!!

Have we enough girls to form a team-one team-
a winning team-
a top team-
an ERINDALE team!
